quiz, we'd like to hear your opinions of it. If I make up the questions, we receive a multitude of correct answers and have to pick the winner out of a hat. If Commander Pattee, who is a real expert does it, the number of entries is extremely small. If you like the quiz and would like to see it continued, even if you don't send in answers, let us know. It will stay as a regular department if you want it but the lack of entries has had us wondering.

On the subject of the LOG, we must again apologize to those of you who have had articles accepted and which have not been published. Lack of space is the reason. We are now getting wargame reports from three clubs with more due. This seems to be the most popular section of the LOG so we'll be publishing at least one an issue. Incidentally, no further word as of now on the availability of rules.

Because of technical problems, Superior could not guarantee they'd have their new model ready by the time the LOG went to press. So rather than advertise it now and take the chance of contributing to the out-of-stock problem, we thought it would be best to wait until the next issue to announce it.

Well, it's that time of year again . . . time to get out your ALNAVCO catalog and mark those items you'd like to see under the Christmas tree with your name on them. Leave it where your friends and relatives will be sure to see it with a gentle reminder to get their orders in to us as soon as possible and to make alternate selections if possible. If you need a new catalog, write us immediately and we'll rush you one free of charge. Don't forget to include the new items in this LOG on your Xmas want list.

I want to take this opportunity to wish you a very Merry Christmas and a most prosperous New Year and to thank you sincerely for your business of 1968. We look forward to again serving your naval interests again next year.

Warmest holiday greetings,

Pete Paschall
