MEMO FROM PETE PASCHALL

We’ve got a pretty good menu of new models, upgrades and re-issues for you in this issue. But be forewarned that it is wishful thinking (at least on our part) that all will be in stock by the time you read this. Different suppliers (including us) move at different speeds and unforeseen problems may arise to slow things down. But please bear with us. We’ll get what you want to you just as soon as we can.

Believe it or not, we have received a shipment of parts and aircraft from Clydeside, happily indicating that Bill Gilpin is back to producing his fine line. He tells us that he will be issuing new models soon. A website at  www incorporation dot com will backorder any that are ordered and get them to you specific models for you in time for Santa’s arrival but we would not play a significant role.

Superior ‘Never-were’ re-releases

A205 $29.50 CA20, U.S. Heavy CB, 38,700T, 888’L, 12-12’, 12-5’:
This design was based on an IOWA hull with ALASKA superstructure. Fast and well-armed, it would have overpowered any cruiser and most BB’s. Because it would have cost as much as an IOWA, the design was never built.

A207 $26.50 CAC, U.S. CB, 20,000T, 808’L, 12-8’, 12-5’:
This design was based on an ALASKA hull with a BALTI-MORE superstructure.

Note: Conversions from Bob Weymouth

A207 8”: Main battery of four auto 8/55” turrets from A312 DES MOINES
A207 12”: Main battery of four twin 12” from A208 Scheme 2
A207 may be ordered with parts bags for both the above 8” & 12”.

Note: We expect these to be in stock about mid-January. Also A312 DES MOINES listed later is expected at the same time.

CLYDESIDEL 1:1200 AIRCRAFT

Clydeside has just re-released their line of very high-quality 1:1200 USN WWII aircraft. In response to the many inquiries we’ve had for the folded wing version, Bill Gilpin has included these for each aircraft where appropriate. He’s even included an SBD Dauntless with folded wings. The SBD’s did not have folded wings so we can classify this as a “Never-was!” These are designated “(FW)” in the listings below. Each pack contains six aircraft.
